35 ARRESTED AT CAMP CUSTER IN KU KLUX MEETING

FIERY CROSS IS BURNED ON MILITARY RESERVATION.

GENERAL'S THREAT
Commander Says He Will Break Up Any Future Meetings.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Battle Creek, Mich.—Harford Hill at Camp Custer will be covered with machine guns hereafter, and will be open to other than other unauthorized meetings such as was held last night, presumably by the Ku Klux Klan, to be held there, an order issued today by Major John Franklyn, chief of staff, at the direction of General George Moseley, said.

The order, which is to be read to every organization within the camp, and has been issued to the press, "so that innocent parties may be fully advised," follow:

"For several evenings detachments, apparently of the Ku Klux Klan, have entered the southern part of the Camp Custer reservation and had meetings on Harford Hill with the evident intent of bringing their order to the attention of members of this camp.

"Last night the guard sent to capture any such intruders on the reservation arrived too late, but it did gather a number of members of this camp who had been attracted there.

"The members of this camp are warned to keep away from any and all such meetings. It is an offense for a soldier to appear in his uniform at such gatherings. The true patriotic soldier serves honorably in an organization wherein each member is recognized in the law by name.

To carry out the intent of this order instructions have been issued to cover Harford Hill with machine gun fire and should another meeting be held, this fire will be opened."

All members of this garrison will avoid being in the vicinity of such a meeting.

"This order will be given out to the press so that all innocent parties may be fully advised."

CLEMENTSON IN HOT REPLY TO GOV. BLAINE

Lancaster—Denial that there was any "mot violence" connection with the recently bonded men in Boscombe recently is contained in a telegram sent by District Attorney George B. Clementson to Governor Blaine and made public here today.

"I am concerned simply with the case of one citizen putting a gun on another, apparently without justification," said the district attorney, "and I do not believe that it is my duty as it plainly appears to me and shall continue to do it without partisanship. As an impartial officer it seems to me that it is better able to judge of the action the situation requires than you are at Madison."

A complaint has been issued and George Shultz, state attorney at Boscombe, arrested on a charge of assault in connection with the affair.

Speaker Dahl Out in Open for Hirst

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Strum—John Dahl, speaker of the assembly at the last legislature, yesterday openly attacked Governor Blaine's administration in a speech here. He announced his support of A. R. Hirst for governor.

"Two more years of Mr. Blaine and the progressive cause will be lost to Wisconsin," said Mr. Dahl, "the governor is slightly compromised by the leading Wisconsin progressives who have the welfare of their state at heart will spare no effort to retire John J. Blaine from public office."

Dahl urged progressives to combine their forces to defeat the present executive. It was his first open statement in the present campaign.

Chicago.—The legal battle to save Nathan Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb from the gallows ended today, and the state once more took up the offensive before Justice John R. Caverly in its endeavor to secure a death sentence for the murderers of Robert E. Franks.

Dahl urged progressives to combine their forces to defeat the present executive. It was his first open statement in the present campaign.

Benjamin Buchrach, long time friend of the Loeb family, completed the argument for the defense today with another attack upon the mode of examinations by which the state's attorney concluded that the two brilliant college youths were normal mentally.

He attacked also the legal citations offered in the first argument of the state purporting to sustain the state's demand for a death penalty. Of more than a score of witnesses, Illinois courts cited by Assistant State's Attorneys Thomas Marshall, "there is not a single case in point." Buchrach declared.

He appealed to the court to consider that the present case was entirely without precedent in American

Light Turnout on Registration Day

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

A little thing like registration day doesn't interest Janesville voters until they want to do it, vote. This demonstrated here Tuesday, beginning registration day in the city, when less than 100 voters had registered the poll went to the next door.

Apparently most of those who have voted before are assuming that their names will be placed on the new poll lists without the formality of registering, and this is being done in most cases where the voters are old.

Many of those registering Tuesday were from the city or had recently moved from one precinct to another. The future British government would not exceed the current outlays.

It is believed that all efforts will be made to encourage voters to register.

Aboard the Richmond during the lead-to-Greenland attempt, was discovered late Sunday night of the missing Italian seaplane piloted by Lieutenant Locatelli and the escape of its four occupants after tossing about for more than 50 hours on the bleak waters of the north Atlantic, came in dramatic fashion.

The Richmond, flagship of Rear Admiral Magruder, commanding the convoying squadron to the American world fliers, was putting out to sea through a gale and ice field all-day search along the Greenland ice path when at 11:30 o'clock three survivors were seen.

Immediately the course was changed in the direction of the lights, which reappeared at intervals. It was after midnight when the plane, bobbing on the water was "picked up" by the Richmond's searchlights, at a point 125 miles east of Cape Farewell, the southernmost tip of Greenland.

French Senate Debates Dawes

Plan with Much Opposi-

sition.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Paris.—The second stage of Premier Herriot's effort to obtain legislative approval for the London agreement on the Dawes reparation plan, was opened upon today, when the French senate began its discussion of the pact elaborated at the recent international conference, with the intention of voting upon it before tonight.

Former Premier Raymond Poincaré, speaking for the opposition, was steadfast in the defense of the occupied zone of the Ruhr. He interrupted the government speakers with short observations and corrected anything he thought erroneous.

The former premier's first comment was, "that was an important mistake" when Senator H. Lehman asserted that the Dawes committee had not been hindered by the restrictions imposed by the Morgan committee, which had been agreed to keep within the treaty of Versailles and the London schedule of payments.

When M. Lehman said that the Ruhr had brought in three billion francs above expenses while the Dawes plan promised seven billion, M. Poincaré promptly interjected, "No it's not the truth." He added that the amount had been taken principally during the last few months.

ANOTHER TOURING PARTY IS COMING

Leave Kansas City Sept. 26 for Trip to Wisconsin and the National.

Kansas and Missouri are coming back to Wisconsin. A special train, carrying 200 Kansas and Missouri dairymen at one and one-third fare, will leave Kansas City, September 26, for a three day tour through the dairy belt of Wisconsin.

The visitors will arrive in Milwaukee the first day of the National Dairy show and view more than 1,600 of the finest dairy cattle in the world.

The Southwest Dairy Special is sponsored by the agricultural college of Kansas City, Kansas, and the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of stimulating interest in better dairy animals and acquainting farmers with successful methods used in the dairy belt.

Meet at Beloit.

Ten parlor car buses will meet the party at Beloit, the "land of milk and money." Stops will be made at the most interesting farms, which offer the best examples of practical dairying. The most intensive cheese district in the world will be visited on the last day.

J. R. Fitch, head of the dairy department at Kansas State Agricultural College is calling dairymen's attention to the fact that the National Dairy show alone is well worth the trip. "It will be the greatest dairy show ever held," he says, "and being right in the heart of dairying, makes it of double value. Cattle and dairy meetings will be of interest to all."

Study Methods Here

For 50 years the farmers of Wisconsin raised corn, wheat, rye and barley as their major activities. Under this program the average yield per acre was established in the point of unattainable yields of all grain crops. In 1855 they changed their system of farming from grain to dairy cows, with the result that the acre yield of crops has almost doubled, pay days are often 25,000 miles of good roads have been constructed and general prosperity prevails.

It is for the purpose of learning more about methods and results of the Wisconsin farming system that this tour is made. Every member of the party expects to gather all the information and suggestions possible and take them back to his home community in the hope that improvements may be made in agricultural conditions to the end that the soil may be enriched, acre yields increased, crop failures eliminated, and a larger and more dependable income accrue to the farmers.

GOVERNOR WAITS TO NAME JUDGE AS ELKHORN JAIL FILLS

Grading and Labelling of Products Required to Protect Reputation.

Elkhorn—The population of the county jail has increased to 14, which is the maximum capacity, due to the fact that the governor, for some reason, apparently political, does not make an appointment to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge J. W. Page, and no cases can be tried. This is unfortunate, as cases of insane, dependent, tubercular patients and other unfortunate are suffering for needed court attention. Our county court is practically out of existence until the governor appoints a judge.

Madison—Enactment of a national marketing law fashioned after the Wisconsin marketing statute is advocated by Alvin C. Reis, assistant attorney general and counsel for the department of markets. Mr. Reis declared the Badger law is a model for other states and has been copied in legislation passed.

Speaking of the Wisconsin law with reference to standardizing and labeling food products, Mr. Reis said:

"The Wisconsin statute authorizes the department of markets to create standards for the grade of food products and to prescribe regulations for their labeling, including administrative statute. Standards are not established by the legislature but, on the contrary, a discretion is committed to the administrative department which results in conveniences and elasticity. The law applies the regulations promulgated to all products packed in the state, regardless of the ultimate sale."

Grading of Products

"Wisconsin produces 70 percent of the cheese of the United States; 91 percent of the so-called foreign types of cheese. Ninety-five percent of the Wisconsin cheese goes outside of the state, yet each Wisconsin cheese has its label to indicate where it came from. The cheese is labeled on the outside of the oil stone curd which is to be left intact."

SUN HELPS IN WAR ON MOSQUITOES

Dry Weather Apparently Reducing Size of Army—Flies More Plentiful.

Drier weather—for strangely it has not rained in southern Wisconsin for more than 63 days—has started a reduction in the number of mosquitoes in southern Wisconsin, although there must be some billions of them left.

But, starting Tuesday morning, flies have become more numerous and are particularly annoying.

Flies and mosquitoes make a combination not at all delicious. You have the satisfaction of killing a hundred or two mosquitoes a day, but the fly must be chased in order to swat it.

Female Does the Bitting.

The mosquito invasion is not over by any means. Geling, fishing, picnicking and gardening still are being abandoned and are disappearing.

People are having a difficult time getting in their harvests of grain and their work is slowed up as a result. Some do not attempt to go into the fields without wearing netting. It has been thought necessary on some farms to keep the cattle in the barn rather than subject it to attack of the female.

The female of the species mosquito is more deadly than the male. It is the "lady" of the family who does the biting.

Drug stores of every town in southern Wisconsin have had a call for lotions. Purveyors of joss sticks report increased sales.

The pestilence of mosquitoes is not confined to southern Wisconsin. Everywhere in the middle west there are reports of more mosquitoes than for years, due to the wet summer.

Weather conditions have been more delightful for the past few days, since last Friday morning there has been no rain. During the entire long hours of Tuesday, it looked as if another thunder shower was due to break, but the thunder and lightning fled away, grumbling.

Tuesday saw the thermometer up again to the 40 degree mark, when it reached that figure at 2 p.m. It started at 75 at 8 a.m. and was 88 at noon.

CROWE IN FINAL APPEAL FOR DEATH FOR MURDERS

(Continued from page 1.) legal history and that the decision here would mark the path for the future. The special peculiarities of the present case, he insisted were the age of the defendants, and the nature of their mental debility.

His argument which lasted more than one hour, and was offered as the last word of the defense, dwelt upon the retarded mental development of both boys.

"When the word was sent out from Chicago that these two boys had confessed this crime," the response came from every quarter "why the boys must be crazy," said Mr. Buchrach.

"The very act in itself was sufficient to lay the law mind."

Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, indicated that the final argument for the state probably would require six or more hours.

Crowe Again in Battle

Demanding again the death penalty for "these two poor sons of multi-millionaires," State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe in the final argument for the state today launched a vigorous attack upon the mere plea of counsel for Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb.

He spoke briefly of his tour through the country with the defense, heralding his education in "bad time stories" and "the bad signs" which surround the defendants.

He contended vigorously that neither the state's attorney nor the court had the right to be lenient above the letter and spirit of the law. "The law says," he shouted, "that in cases of extreme violence, the penalty shall be death. Why may we forgive our political enemies, but not the defendants, nor I am state's attorney, has a shied of right to forgive injuries to the laws which we are sworn to defend."

He denounced vigorously, as a sacrifice, testimony by a defense attorney that Leopold considered his mother and a maid son himself as a "christ child." He added: "Why this young pervert has defamed God, who he was eleven years old," said Mr. Crowe, and pointing to Leopold he added: "I wonder if now, Nathan, you think there is a God and a law in Illinois."

Mr. Crowe referred to a conversation he once had with Clarence Darrow, before the present trial began, in which the latter urged the abolition of capital punishment in Illinois. "Then," he continued, "when he was in the legislature he did not abolish it."

Mr. Crowe then related the story of his experience as a judge, in which he sentenced to death a man who was convicted of the raping and murder of a six year old girl several years ago.

The state's attorney argued that rigid enforcement of the law had always decreed capital punishment.

"They are no more entitled to mercy than two rattlesnakes," Mr. Crowe declared. "They are two mad dogs. They are no sacrifice to themselves and the families and a menace to the community."

"They are not of earthly use to themselves. The only thing for which they use themselves is to debase themselves."

"The only thing they can now do, usefully is to die at the hands of the law."

"They are babes, children—children whose playthings are bloody chisels."

He decried the contention of the defense counsel that the chief popular interest in the trial was aroused by the fact that the defendants are sons of wealthy families.

"Their wealth, in my judgment, has nothing to do with the case—except to give them privilege in the court, which, without wealth, would be unnoted in these proceedings."

Darrow's "Silent Parrot."

"Take away their wealth, and the tongue of Clarence Darrow would be as silent as the tomb of Julius Caesar."

The prosecutor turned sarcastic as he discussed the private habits of the defendants.

"They really called it 'childish comment,'" said Mr. Crowe. "If he is not ashamed of that statement, I am for him. 'Childish'! I was a man before I had heard of such depravity."

"They may talk about what lawyers will do for money, but I know no lawyer who would have gone on the stand and said that such practices were 'childish'."

He asked the judge to bear in mind testimony which had been whispered to the court. The argument then ran into unimportant details.

OBITUARY

Joseph W. Richardson
Milton Junction—Joseph W. Richardson, 72, a resident of southern Wisconsin for more than 63 years, died Monday night at his home at Mathews Corners, near here, after a short illness. Mr. Richardson, son of Joseph Richardson was born in New York City on Aug. 6, 1852. His parents were pioneers of Wisconsin and settled in Newville three years later. In 1883, he was married to Miss May Whitney.

For more than 25 years, the Richardson family resided in Newville, moving to Mathews Corners in 1901, survived by his wife and two children, Mrs. Clara Arnold and Fay Richardson. Four children preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be held from the home at 2 p.m. Thursday. Burial will be made in the Edgerton cemetery.

Female Does the Bitting.

The mosquito invasion is not over by any means. Geling, fishing, picnicking and gardening still are being abandoned and are disappearing.

People are having a difficult time getting in their harvests of grain and their work is slowed up as a result. Some do not attempt to go into the fields without wearing netting. It has been thought necessary on some farms to keep the cattle in the barn rather than subject it to attack of the female.

The female of the species mosquito is more deadly than the male. It is the "lady" of the family who does the biting.

Drug stores of every town in southern Wisconsin have had a call for lotions. Purveyors of joss sticks report increased sales.

The pestilence of mosquitoes is not confined to southern Wisconsin. Everywhere in the middle west there are reports of more mosquitoes than for years, due to the wet summer.

Weather conditions have been more delightful for the past few days, since last Friday morning there has been no rain. During the entire long hours of Tuesday, it looked as if another thunder shower was due to break, but the thunder and lightning fled away, grumbling.

Tuesday saw the thermometer up again to the 40 degree mark, when it reached that figure at 2 p.m. It started at 75 at 8 a.m. and was 88 at noon.

CROWE IN FINAL APPEAL FOR DEATH FOR MURDERS

(Continued from page 1.) legal history and that the decision here would mark the path for the future. The special peculiarities of the present case, he insisted were the age of the defendants, and the nature of their mental debility.

His argument which lasted more than one hour, and was offered as the last word of the defense, dwelt upon the retarded mental development of both boys.

"When the word was sent out from Chicago that these two boys had confessed this crime," the response came from every quarter "why the boys must be crazy," said Mr. Buchrach.

"The very act in itself was sufficient to lay the law mind."

Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, indicated that the final argument for the state probably would require six or more hours.

Crowe Again in Battle

Demanding again the death penalty for "these two poor sons of multi-millionaires," State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe in the final argument for the state today launched a vigorous attack upon the mere plea of counsel for Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb.

He spoke briefly of his tour through the country with the defense, heralding his education in "bad time stories" and "the bad signs" which surround the defendants.

He contended vigorously that neither the state's attorney nor the court had the right to be lenient above the letter and spirit of the law. "The law says," he shouted, "that in cases of extreme violence, the penalty shall be death. Why may we forgive our political enemies, but not the defendants, nor I am state's attorney, has a shied of right to forgive injuries to the laws which we are sworn to defend."

He denounced vigorously, as a sacrifice, testimony by a defense attorney that Leopold considered his mother and a maid son himself as a "christ child." He added: "Why this young pervert has defamed God, who he was eleven years old," said Mr. Crowe, and pointing to Leopold he added: "I wonder if now, Nathan, you think there is a God and a law in Illinois."

Mr. Crowe referred to a conversation he once had with Clarence Darrow, before the present trial began, in which the latter urged the abolition of capital punishment in Illinois. "Then," he continued, "when he was in the legislature he did not abolish it."

FREIGHT RATES ON COAL UP SEPT. 10

Increases of 23 and 41 Cents on Illinois Coal to Hit Janesville.

Freight rates on bituminous coal from the fields of southern and also northern Illinois to Janesville will be increased. Starting Sept. 10, it is announced at the office of the traffic bureau of the local Chamber of Commerce.

The increase will be from $2.52 a ton to $2.75 from southern Illinois, a boost of 23 cents a net ton and from $1.64 to $2.65 from northern Illinois, a rise of 41 cents a net ton.

Cause of Rate Increase.

"The increase has been under advisement by the Interstate commerce commission for years," explains James Campbell, traffic manager. "It put into effect by the commission because the eastern coal operators have been kept out of Wisconsin and the Minnesota markets in favor of the railroads, which are in control of the market."

National Red Cross Convention—Any local Red Cross member who contemplates visiting Washington, D. C., this fall, is requested by local officials to arrange to be made air mail delegate from here to the national convention there October 6 to 9. Special hotel rates and other features will be arranged.

Protest is Prohibited.

"The commission has under advisement by the Interstate commerce commission for years," explains James Campbell, traffic manager. "It put into effect by the commission because the eastern coal operators have been kept out of Wisconsin and the Minnesota markets in favor of the railroads, which are in control of the market."

Hurt Man at Hospital—Otto Anderson, plasterer at the new Superior, was injured Monday in a fall from a scaffolding and his back injured. He was taken to Mercy hospital for treatment, where he will be confined for about a week.

Woodmen Initiate—More than 200 attended the meeting of the Woodmen No. 302, Milwaukee, at American Lodge, 1411, at West Street and Old Fellow's Hall. Candidates were initiated and a card party held after the business. Roy Van Hise was chairman of the social committee that served refreshments.

PLAINTIFF TELLS ATTORNEY TO STOP PRESENT ACTION

A carrier pigeon, banded on both legs, was captured by C. E. Eskridge at 116 North Washington, when it alighted near his window. The bird was released from Oakwood cemetery at 7 a.m. in Tuesday. Mr. Dorran intended to release the bird this afternoon, and watch the direction of its flight.

These subpoenas were served on J. Jensen, as a member of the committee of public works and an engineer of the Milwaukee Sand & Gravel Company, as secretary of the travel firm; Committeemen J. Star Atwood and Leonard Palmer; members of the committee of public works; A. J. Olsen, as city clerk-treasurer; and R. R. Birdsell, as member of the firm of R. R. Birdsell & Son company. Each was ordered to appear with him papers and other information in regard to the paving contract.

With the cancellation of the suit, these subpoenas became void.

McWILLIAMS NOT THROUGH.

Attorney McWilliams stated Tuesday afternoon that despite the dropping of the original action, further steps will be taken to quash the contract.

"We are just getting started in this matter," Mr. McWilliams said. "The matter will be fought to a finish despite the dropping of this action. There are hundreds of people in Janesville interested in this matter, and we propose to continue proceedings."

When questioned for further details regarding the plaintiffs in the proposed suits, Mr. McWilliams declined to answer at the present time, stating that an announcement will be made in the near future.

OLSON DENIES CONNECTION WITH PAVING SUIT.

Oscar G. Olson, president and general manager of the Tractor City Sand and Gravel company, flatly denied all connection with the injunction proceedings brought against the city by property owners desirous of halting the 1924 paving program.

Mr. Olson, when interviewed by a Gazette reporter Tuesday morning, claimed that he was not instrumental in starting the action against the city. But that he was desirous of seeing justice displayed the property owners and J. K. Jensen, president of the city council, "showed up to be what he really is."

He denied that he was interested in this action indirectly, Mr. Olson said, "merely as a property owner who will be assessed for paving work. But I am decidedly interested in this question from the standpoint of the public."

"Whenever any organization, no matter how it chose to act, attacks the Klan or any other name, unless the standard of racial or religious belief as a test of fitness for public office, it does violence to the spirit of American institutions and must be condemned by all who believe in American ideals."

The democratic nominee was greeted on his arrival here by Gov. Davis, former Governor James E. Campbell, and other leaders of his party.

He decried the contention of the defense counsel that the chief popular interest in the trial was aroused by the fact that the defendants are sons of wealthy families.

"Their wealth, in my judgment, has nothing to do with the case—except to give them privilege in the court, which, without wealth, would be unnoted in these proceedings."

NEW TYPE OF LABOR LEADER

BY FREDERIC J. HANKE.

Washington—One more dramatic tradition is slipping away into past history. Ever since machinery and unions and strikes and labor problems have been a part of modern existence, one of the dramatic figures in American romance and real life has been the labor leader.

Sometimes he was pictured as the hero, and occasionally as the villain, but always the leader ran true to form. He was a humble worker and mostly uneducated. When a crisis in factory affairs occurred, he rushed to the front of the battle and led his fellow workers in a desperate fight for what they held to be their rights. Thereafter he took undisputed place as champion of the masses. Once in a while a woman filled this role.

Unfortunately for fiction writers, to whom this sort of story has been extremely useful, the labor leader is being domesticated. The fire and eloquence of the inspired leader raised up from the mire were highly valuable when strikes were the accepted weapon of labor. But since labor and capital are becoming agreed that strikes are costly for everybody involved in them, and since arbitration is the most hopeful method of settling disputes, a clever head has become a greater asset than a hot one to a representative of labor.

In consequence, no longer does the representative of a trade union trust to natural ability and the subconscious mind to furnish the necessary background for leadership. Instead, the employee who aims to become a serious worker for the trade unions or who is anxious to better factory conditions, goes to school and starts in to become a specialist in labor problems. Men and women from the factories can be found in almost all of the leading universities. They study economics, sociology, sanitation, hygiene, English and other subjects that will enable them to understand labor problems and that will enable them to discuss these problems with others.

JUST FOLKS

BY EDGAR A. GUEST.

BROKEN RESOLUTIONS

With resolutions good I came Unto this pleasant spot.

Said I unto my winsome dame:
"Our time'll work a lot."

"In town distractions drive me wild,
But there's beside the lake,
Where skies are blue and breezes mild
Full many a rhyme I'll make."

"I'll write the afternoons away
And every quiet night
When no one comes at bridge to play
I'll sit me down to write."

But when I settle to my task
There comes a friend, and he Says temptingly: "I've called to ask
If you would golf with me?"

I am not made of bitter stuff,
I get my clubs and hit,
I'm strong, but not quite strong enough
To spurn a plea like that.

At four o'clock my little son
Cries: "Come, it's time to swim."
And to the beach with him I run
As I had promised him.

Next callers come an hour to stay,
They have no song to write,
No copy must they send away,
And I must be polite.

Night finds me where the day began
And thus the weeks roll by,
Surely a sorry tempted man
To indecision am I!

Each day I vow I will not shrink,
But in my tasks be true;
Up here I'll do a lot of work,
And then I never do.

HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 27, 1924

Although the friendly aspects rule early in the morning of this day, later threatening signs appear, according to astrology. Mercury and Venus are friendly, while Mars and Saturn are surely adverse.

Intense emotional currents will be dominant during business hours and it will be wise to be cautious in all important deals.

Disensions, lawsuits and unfriendliness may develop easily under this sway.

Old persons, especially those who wield financial power, may be testy and difficult to deal with while this configuration lasts.

The planetary government is favorable to the ambitions of women and there will be an increase of political activity among them at this time.

All the signs point to a progressive growth of interest among the women of the land who at this time may emphasize their peace views.

Mars is in a place ready to maneuver to international relations and new problems in diplomacy are indicated.

From overseas there will come new reports of wars or revolutions, if the stars are right.

Scotland and places under Cancer are to continue to be lucky in avoiding difficulties involving serious results.

Intrigue and deception on the part of a foreign power invades the United States and there is a strong possibility of some serious complications.

Persons whose birthday it is, may have a troublesome year. They should safeguard the health and take special care of themselves.

Children born on this day may be exceedingly clever and gifted, but these subjects of Virgo are likely to be too fond of amusement and inclined to spend money easily.

THE PHILOLOGIST WAS HANGED

Campus pictures sometimes have put forward in support of the novelty of notorious criminals. One of the strangest was that on half of George Kuloff, an American schoolmaster, who was convicted in 1870 of a series of robberies and murders, his own wife and daughter being among the victims. For cold-blooded cruelty his record would be hard to beat, but Kuloff had his other side.

He was an ardent philologist, and had been engaged for years on the invention of a universal language. No one could attempt to palliate his crime, but the criminal's sentence was commuted to the governor of Virginia for his reliance on the ground that as his invention, if completed, would be of the utmost benefit to mankind. It would be criminal folly to extinguish such a light of learning. The governor thought otherwise, and Kuloff was duly hanged.

The Able McLaughlins

By MARGARET WILSON
(Copyright Harper & Bro.)

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE:
The scene is set in a log cabin where the McLaughlins settled and made rich farms from the prairie lands. At the opening of the Civil war, Wally McLaughlin, a soldier, comes home on a furlough. He had been captured and made his escape. He remained at home convalescing and met Christie, with whom he at once falls in love. She accepts him. This is sorrow, and his mother, who, when the time comes for Wally to again return to his regiment, but he spends most of the time in a hospital and returns again. His mother is charged. He was sick and, it seemed, doomed to the life of an invalid. Christie's mother was dead and there had been no one to care for her who avoided him. Then, when he asked her to marry him, gave him a rib-buff. After that, he avoided Christie. Peter McLaughlin was a simple and growing thinner and paler all the time.

"This is why you have been ailing all summer! You'd reason to be! Did you think you could do evil and prosper?"

He wasn't going to stand any more of that tone. He got up.

"I'll be going," he exclaimed. "There's no place for me here!" No sooner had he used those words than he regretted them. They might seem to appear to her pity. That was what she had said, and she had a little lad upon, seeing a new baby in her arms, and afterwards, whenever she had shown him a new child, she had reminded him of it.

"Don't go!" she answered unrelenting. "There is always a place for you, whatever you elect to do. This is a sore stroke, Wally!" Then she added, wearily and passionately,

"When I was a girl, I wanted to be some great person. And when you all were born, I wanted only to have a great man. And when you grew up, I prayed you might be at least honest. And you not to have even that, it seems."

He had heard her say that before. He was so sorry for her pain that he hardly knew what to do. It only there had been any other way out! May Christie had been right in desiring him to tell his own mother the truth. But he would not! He would share his wife's blame.

"I'm sorry about it, mother," he pleaded. "I'm sick about it. I've done what I could to make it right."

"To make it right? Do you think you can ever make wrong right? You are still young, and your own marriage."

"I will not!"

"I wish you would. I can't—very well."

"You'd best!"

Wally stood watching him tie the yellow curtains into clusters on the window. He did so with his might to gather courage to face his mother. He hadn't felt such a nervous hesitancy since the first time he went into action. He remembered only too well the last time he had really struck her displeasure. Also, he had quarreled, and had nursed their anger, and had supposed they had been at it for two days. He had crawled out something to his brother across the supper table, and after that, she had put the little children to bed, and had set her two sons down before the fireplace—it was in the first house they had ever lived in. She had driven her sons away, and had gone quietly and calmly to lay them with her tongue. She had continued with deliberateness till they were glad to escape half crying to bed. He remembered still how she had begun. It might be natural, she said, for brothers to quarrel. But she had been natural for her son to quarrel in her presence. And she had been perfectly right about that. What she would say now, upon an occasion like this with her dismaying self-control, he couldn't even imagine. It would be nothing common, he felt.

On the bed, which she had just finished spreading with a "drunkard's path" quilt, they sat down together in a low room of the second story, where three beds full of boys were accustomed to sleep. She kissed him fondly when he came to her, saying, "We're lonely here with him away so much. She wondered why they had not been at church. Was Christie not well again?"

"I have something to tell you, mother," he stammered.

"I'm listening," she said encouragingly, her eyes studying him tenderly. "It's written on my head," he said. How beautiful a man he was!

"We're going to have a baby! In December, mother!"

Over her face there spread swiftly a smile of soft amusement. She had always looked that way when one of her children said something especially good.

"You don't mean December, Wally? Didn't you know that?" The wistful smile just hung soft.

He couldn't look at her.

"I know what I mean," he said, doxily. "I mean December. I understand that if I let him, he had to steal a look at her. Her incredulous face was flushed red with shame and anger. He rose to defend his love from her.

"You aren't to say a word against her. It wasn't her fault!"

Then the storm broke.

"We're going to see a woman against the poor, poor thing," she cried. "After sitting there alone among the wolves and snakes, and a son of man to bring her to shame! I'll never lift my head again!" Her rush of emotion quite shook her.

"My fine, brave soldier of a son!" she burst out, recovering herself, with a quick, impulsive choice a kiss alone, with neither father nor mother to defend her from you!"

"Mother!" he cried.

"Jeannie's was Christie!" she went on. "No one else could please you, I suppose! Oh, she did well to die."

OPERATION ADVISED

FRIEND SAID "DON'T DO IT!"

Try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound First.

Proved Good Advice

Chicago, Illinois.—"Just a few lines to let you know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I was married going on for three years, and went to a doctor and was taking treatments twice a week for tonsils every month. I used to lie in bed three or four days with them, and the doctor would call and inject something into my nose to put me asleep so I would not feel the pains. At last, she said I would have to be operated on if I wanted any children. Well, I just happened to go to see a friend with her first baby and told her I was going to the hospital, and she said, 'Don't do it! You go and get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you won't need any operation.' So my husband got me a bottle right away. Now I have two lovely children. I recommend the Vegetable Compound to every woman. It has helped me and a lot of my friends."

YOUR BABY and MINE

BY MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred is happy to advise all mothers about the care of their children of any age, or of any subject which does not belong in the field of the doctor.

Mrs. M. B. writes:

"My baby is three weeks old and was born two weeks ahead of time. He sleeps fine during the day but wakes half a dozen times at night. I take him and he seems satisfied. He has yellow jaundice but the doctor claims it will pass soon. I give the baby two or three ounces of boiled water during the day."

Answer:

New babies have a reprehensible habit of turning night into day. My advice is not to worry too much about any baby under six weeks. From personal experience I have found that lots of babies who sleep the entire night for the first six weeks settle down afterwards and become excellent sleepers. For a while try giving the baby its bath before bed time instead of in the morning. Nurse not oftener than twice at night, offering water at other times. Feeding the baby so often will interfere with the sleeping habit.

Mrs. R. M. writes:

"My baby will be four months old in October and in the third month weighs 12 pounds and nine ounces.

I feed her every four hours and lately she has not been waking for her six o'clock feeding at night. She gains an average of eight ounces a week. How soon can I leave out that nursing?"

Answer:

You have a perfectly normal healthy baby and after four months it is all right to omit the night nursing. If the four nurseries are not enough to keep her full, give the 10 o'clock feeding again. I think she will get along as well without it.

If naths are soiled, scrub them with a small stiff brush; and if the hands have been immersed for a long time, massage olive oil or some mixture of honey and almonds into them. In either case you can go right on with some other work, regarding the use of the hands and the skin will be soft and free from oiliness.

Betty—A mixture of ammonia and peroxide could not increase the growth of superfluous hair. The clipping you send is advertising for a dipilator; and do not know what kind it is. In June, the issue of July 28 will give you the latest information regarding superfluous hairs.

Hob—It sometimes takes a long time to make a full recovery from a sprain; and it is possible that one of the small ligaments is still feeling the effects of the wrench you gave the ankle. Rest it when you can, and this helps to shorten the time for recovery.

Lee witch hazel after shaving as an astringent; it will also be somewhat of a bleach for the marks left from the pimplies.

Consult a dermatologist about the lump on end of nose.

Mrs. A. C.—When your hair is dyed, wash it as often as possible. Reheat as often as is needed to keep the hair evenly colored. In a few weeks the natural shade or gray hair will begin to show at the roots, when some touching up with the dye will be needed to even the shade for a short time; but a few such experiences will be all that can be counted toward the color.

Helen—Bathe every day with a weak solution of boracic acid or weak salt water. If the condition does not clear up consult the doctor about it.

Griefeul T.—If you wipe the skin off with a small soft chamois it will remove the shine.

When the feet are cold all the time it shows the circulation is poor. Under such circumstances the health should be built up. All the trouble will then be eliminated, including that of the excessive perspiration.

Toe Fat—After you have grown up all parts of your body will be in proportion, so there is no reason for worrying over because some parts of it are fat.

William Dunlevy and friend were in Madison Sunday.—Miss Edith Stabs and Fred Cook, Duluth, Minn., who were visiting in Chicago, were guests at the E. A. Kane home Thursday night, leaving Friday for Duluth. Both articles should be returned.

ROSE BROWN EYES—It is not right for you to wear the pin or the ring, and it would be in very poor taste to ask permission of the boy. Both articles should be returned.

CURLY LOCKS—

I think you and the boy are too young to consider matrimony at present, and I also think you are wise in having more than one boy friend.

Say that he has no right to insist you go to him and he found out he would never speak to you again.

What do you think about this?

DESERVED—

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 34 years old and have been married one month. My husband and I never had any disagreements or arguments in our home, and he never went out talking to other women.

I seem to show his love to me in every respect until yesterday. He said I might take in a movie alone, as he had some business to attend to,

and he would see me at 4 o'clock.

On returning home instead of seeing my husband I found a note, written to this effect:

"TOO YOUNG—

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of 16 and have been keeping steady company with a boy eight months

now. He loves me and has asked me to marry him. He seems as a brother to me and I am sure I love him, but I think we are too young to consider matrimony at present. What would you advise?

I told him that I had received a letter from another boy and he got angry. He said if I an-died it and he found out he would never speak to me again.

What do you think about this?

TODAY'S MARKET

FED 1,600 PEOPLE AT CONFERENCE

Weekly Livestock Review

CATTLE

Chicago—With decline of 5¢ to 75¢ on heavy steers and advances amounting to 25¢ to 30¢ on yearlings, the cattle market declined last week, though it was steady at $10.50 per light yearling weight as high as $10.50. Beef cows closed steady with the previous week, and heifers advanced 2¢ to 10¢. Calf prices were mixed, both up and down, steady. Calves and cutter cows sold at $2.10 to $2.90, about steady, while calves, on account of small receipts, advanced 10¢ daily, closing at $2.10 to $2.20. Feeder steers declined, but stockers maintained even prices at $5.00 to $6.00.

1,000¢

Her receipts were the third smallest since October, 1922; last week at 115,000, $6,000 smaller than previous week. Saturday's market was unknown, decline of 10¢ to 15¢. Packers took most of the supply not held over, favored better grades. Estimated average weight at 24¢ is heavier than last Saturday. Total receipts of $10.20 are above previous period, and average at $9.20 is equal.

SHEEP

Though receipts were below normal for this time of year, at 77,200, prices on aged sheep dropped 5¢ to $1.50 during the week, while yearlings were down 10¢ to 15¢. Lambs were held over, held on a firm basis throughout the week at Monday's upturn of 1¢ to 2¢ to 3¢. The weekly top record of $13.00 is 14.00. Western range lambs made up most of supply.

GRAIN

Chicago—More favorable crop reports from the Canadian northwest, and a break in Liverpool, gave the wheat market a slight advance. Receipts from Winnipeg estimated the wheat yield in the three provinces were well up, though bushels in excess of the government's August returns. Some selling of wheat here was in evidence, a number of exporters being in the market for wheat which had been put into storage, as well as during the past few days.

The market received fair support when the Detroit delivery tonnage increased 23¢. One-day purchases ranged from unchanged figures to 5¢ off, with Sept. 1, $2.31 to $1.21, and Dec. 1, $2.24 to $1.28, were held by buyers who then drew to well below the previous close.

Liquidation followed a moderate rally shortly after mid-day and all delivery tonnages were held by buyers present downtown. The close being weak at a net loss of 3¢ to 4¢, with Sept. 1, $1.24 to $1.20, and Dec. 1, $1.25 to $1.22.

Generally favorable weather for the new crop weakened the deferred deliveries of corn, but the September delivery was slightly above yesterday's sales. October and November were to be higher, Dec. 1, $1.02 to $1.05. The market underwent a slight general rise, which was followed by a set-back.

Later aggressive buying in, following reports that corn is being harvested by the hot dry weather and the market rallied, with the close firm at a net gain of 1¢ to 2¢, with Dec. 1, $1.07 to $1.07.

Advances started at the decline to a like advance, 5¢ to 6¢ and held near to the latter price.

Higher quotations on hogs gave a lift to provisions.

Badger Boy Tennis Champion Beats Williams

Copyright 1920, by Geo. McManus.

TWO gentlemen were seated in a street car Sunday afternoon on their way to witness the Janesville-Fort Atkinson game at the Pines. Said the man on the left, evidently too visiting here after being away for some years. "I've seen some nice many good ball games in this town back there when they had the Sunnies. They were worth going to see." Replied the man next to the window. "Yes, I've seen some nice games them too, and some nice ones down in Beloit." Said man number 1: "Too bad a town like this couldn't keep the Sunnies here. And there come back." "Well, we don't know. See some mighty good games here this year. Boys playin' pretty fine ball. Some good teams in this league. Wait'll you see them this afternoon. You'll see a real game." Later that afternoon, along about 10 minutes to five, the visitor to town turned to his friend and said: "Well, John, guess Janesville didn't need to keep those Sunnies after all. Some game!"

MANAGER HENRY TRAXLER of the city government of Janesville is a baseball fan. He attended the game a couple of weeks ago between Janesville and Brookfield at Brookfield, State Fair. "I never had more fun in my life. That was one of the best ball games I ever saw. Oh, I don't mean that they played perfect ball, but it was enthralling baseball because you never knew what was going to happen next. First one side scored, then the other, it was all smiles and full of fun while the other side was down in the dumps. Then the other side scored and got on top and things were reversed. The side that was all smiles now had the dumps and the side that had the dumps dumped them for smiles. This was true of the fans in the stands. Why they were full of fun and having a good time."

CONTINUED: The city manager: I have seen some of the other games of the high priced baseball teams around southern Wisconsin. I saw one game of Wisconsin's team get eight runs off a pitcher in one inning. He didn't care and the other players didn't care. What were eight runs to him? He was getting his pay whether he let the other team get eight runs or not. And the stands were dead. It wasn't like that at Brookfield, though. Everybody was in there playing as hard as he could. Everybody was seeing. Including the fans and everybody was having a good time. I tell you this kind of baseball is the best thing for a town like Janesville."

DIAMOND SPARKLES

JANESVILLE—Wigginson's coaching staff this year shuns its varied racing interests. The staff has now been completed and members are making preparations for the opening of the sport season in September.

The staff is headed by T. E. Jones, athletic director, who will guide the destinies of the Badgers. He will be assisted by Fred Thompson, coach of the basketball, George Jorg, coach of intramural director, and Guy Sundt, former university star who recently has been at Ripon college.

J. J. "Jack" Ryan will be chief of the football mentors. Coach Ryan will get his machine working again. He has been a good coach and can't wait to help. White Sox, Reds and Washington were defeating Cleveland and St. Louis 8-3, and 2-0 respectively, Detroit lost ground when the Red Sox of Boston took an 11-inning decision over Ty's Tygers, 4-3.—Rube Ruff hit his 40th homer of the season in the Cleveland game. Ted Speaker of the Indians was plotting for the circuit.—The Athletics and the White Sox remained idle in Philadelphia on account of rain.—Dividing a double header with the Cubs, losing the first game 3-2 and winning the night cap, 11-7, cost the Giants a half game off their four and one-half game lead over the Pirates in second place. The Giants, getting a 7-4 verdict over the Phillips in the second game of a double header scheduled in the Smoky City, the first game being postponed until Tuesday because of rain.—The Brooklyn Dodgers downed the Cardinals, 5-3, and increased their lead in third place over the Cubes to one full game.—Rogers Hornsby, Cardinal second baseman, and leading batter in the major league, smashed out his 21st home run of the season off Doak in the first inning, giving St. Louis a good start but all to no avail.—Boston made a strong finish in its game with Cincinnati when in the 9th inning with the Red Sox trailing, Beane led the score off Riley, bunted three hits off Mays in the 10th and won the game.

Naval reserve crew of Green Bay wins in Culver regatta.

Gene Sarazen signs contract as golf professional at Fresh Meadow County club, Flushing, N. Y.

Elgin, Ill., high school football team abandons training camp at Fond du Lac because of mosquitoes.

C. W. Olney, West Allis, Wisconsin trapshooting champion, hits 98x100 in national meet at Dayton, O.

SCRAPS ABOUT SCRAPPERS:

Jack Rebault, Canadian heavyweight champion, won a judge's decision over Homer Smith, Michigan heavyweight at Buffalo (10).—Clarence Rosen, Detroit bantamweight, got a decision over Tommy Murray of Philadelphia, at Detroit (8).—Harry Greb, world's middleweight champion, signed to meet Jimmy Slattery in a 10-round bout Sept. 3.—Ralph Brady, Spokane, N. Y., won a decision over Leon Leonard, New Orleans at Memphis (8).—Pete Herman finishes training for bout with Sammy Mandel, Rockford, at Aurora, Friday night.—Abe Goldstein, world's bantam champion, scrapes Tommy Ryan, McKeepsport, Pa., in New York, Sept. 2.—Bout planned between Fred Fulton, Rochester, Minn., and Spala, Italian heavyweight champ, called off after wrangling over purse.

John Frank, Worthington, Minn., will send its team to LaCrosse for the opening tilt with the state normal school there.

Superior normal school, East Claire normal, St. John's Military academy and Marquette Academy also expect to schedule games for the opening dual.

The Northern State normal school of Marquette, Mich., will play an alumni team at Marquette, the same day.

Helen Willis, national women's tennis champ, visits Chicago on way west to her home at Berkeley, Calif.

Brian Norton, former South African tennis star, reprimanded by officials for hitting ball into press stand at national tennis meet because clicking telephones instruments and typewriters annoyed him.

Junior Champ Upsets Dope in Turney

Forest Hills, L. I.—George M. Lott, Jr., national junior tennis champion and holding a number of other titles, including that of champion of Wisconsin, racketted himself into greater fame here Monday afternoon when he eliminated R. Norris Williams, ranking American net star, from the national men's singles tourney.

Lott, a Chicago boy, and Williams, were a surprised couple. While the two was the more astonished is a mystery.

Overcomes Nervousness

The 17-year-old Windy city boy went into the match with shaking knees, knowing that he was meeting a former national champion and a member of this year's Olympic tennis team. He lost his shakiness, however, when the heat of battle starting rising, settled to a good game and won.

Three thousand spectators who braved weather that threatened and then poured were astounded. Lott defeated his famous opponent, 6-4, 4-1.

Williams still suffered a sprained ankle.

Play on Tuesday was called off because of a heavy downpour which soaked the courts over night and this morning. Tuesday's schedule, including champion William T. Tilden's opening, was canceled. Manuel Alonso of Spain, will follow Tilden today, starting at 1 p.m. The Tilden-Alonso match was scheduled for Monday, but was rained out.

Brookes Eliminated.

In other matches Monday, Norman Brooks, Australia, was put out by the meet by a youngster, Hunt Relefe, New York, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4. Jean Batten, France, winner of the 1923 Bleden (Bleeding) meet, beat Carl Fischer, former intercollegiate champion, 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

Robert Kinsey of California, one of the sensations of the year, went off the stage when he lost to Watson Washburn, a ranking player, 6-1, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4. Kinsey skidded on the wet grass in the third set and injured his knee.

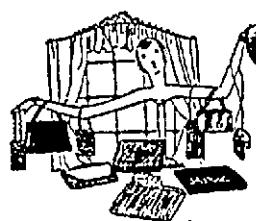

Fred Morris, Canada, lost to John Howard, Baltimore; Pat O'Hare Wood, Australia, beat Harold Throckmorton, New York; Paul Kong, China, defeated Alfred Dabney, and Okamoto won from Lawrence Wright, Boston.

A Big Dollar's Worth for Each Dollar

President Coolidge in an address to business men recently said that "the deal in which one side gets the best of it" is not good business. It does not promote more business or produce confidence in business generally."

The remarkable growth of this Company in 22 years from one obscure store to 571 stores scattered from ocean to ocean, proves the President's point.

The Golden Rule has been our guide. For each dollar given to us we have given a big dollar's worth in return.

BEAUTIFUL does not adequately describe these lamps. They are wonderful. The artists have worked the soft colors into such a harmonious effect that the shades are like rare old paintings. Of course, all this work is done by hand and then fired so the shades may be washed without damage. Then too, the size is liberal, sixteen inches, which adds materially to the looks. The standards are finished in the very latest finishes and correspond to the decorated shade they support.

SELDOM, if ever, has such a large assortment of high class table lamps been shown outside of the larger cities. There are colors here to harmonize with any scheme of interior decoration.

NOW is a good time to dress up the home with one of these lamps. Nothing adds more to the comfort and appearance of the living room than a pretty table lamp. At these extremely low prices it would pay you to dispose of your old lamp and replace it with one of the modern type.

We wish you to know that each and every one of these lamps is a quality article and has never before been sold at these low prices. We are just sacrificing our profits for this sale and after that they will be sold only at the regular price.

THIS IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY.

DO NOT MISS IT.

of Them All*

Why? It is neat in appearance and compact in construction.

It takes up less room and does your washing in half the time of others.

It slops no water on yourself or your kitchen floor.

It washes cleaner, is easier on your clothes and its cast aluminum tub cleans itself.

You can't help but like it if you try it and in buying a life-time servant, it behoves you to investigate the much talked of Maytag.

We will be glad to give you a free demonstration without any obligation to you. Try the Maytag and be your own judge.
